

THE DIAMOND RING

SUBURBAN RACE

Great Field of Thoroughbreds Will Go to the Post Thursday, the Opening Day at Sheepshead Bay.

HANDICAP SHOULD FURNISH GREATEST CONTEST OF YEAR

Irish Lad, The Picket, Major Dainierfield and Proper All Worth Consideration--Double Event a Secondary Feature.

The race of the present week is, of course, the Suburban Handicap, which is run on the opening day at Sheepshead Bay, on Thursday. It all depends on the weather whether this race will furnish one of the greatest contests of the year or whether it will be robbed of its interest by two of the chief factors among its eligibles.

Irish Lad and The Picket are wonderful horses in dry going. They could not head a bull or a horse in muddy going. And on the present inconstant form of the weather no one can do up whether it will be wet or dry on Thursday. But take a tip. Call up the Weather Bureau for information. If they should say that all indications point for fair weather, get out your mackintosh and rubber boots and telegraph a bet to Chicago on Proper or Major Dainierfield.

But taking it for granted that the races will be kind and that the blue skies will smile on Sheepshead Thursday afternoon, the Suburban will be a great race. In order to demonstrate why it will be a great race it is necessary to refer to the Brooklyn Handicap. In that race The Picket carrying 115 pounds and ridden by Helgerson beat Irish Lad, carrying 125 pounds, a nose. Proper, with 110 pounds up and carrying Lyna, was third, a length and a half away. On Thursday these three meet, with the following weights and jockeys:

Irish Lad, 124, Shaw; The Picket, 124, Helgerson; Proper, 110, Odum. The reason why The Picket carries 124 pounds is that he is the best horse in the Suburban. He has won the race three times in a row, and he is the only horse in the Suburban who has won the race three times in a row. He is the only horse in the Suburban who has won the race three times in a row.

There has been much argument since the running of the Brooklyn as to which was the best horse. As the race was run Proper unquestionably ran a remarkable race. He was very slow to break, being away in fourth position. At the three-quarter pole he was nine lengths behind Irish Lad, who was in front, and eight lengths behind The Picket, who was third.

At the far turn he was still the same distance behind the leaders. From that point home he made up that immense gap, and was only beaten a length and a half by Irish Lad. There are two ways of looking at this performance. One was that Proper, being off slow, was unable to move fast enough to make good his move. The other was that he was too slow to make good his move. The Picket was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad. He was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad.

It will be seen, therefore, that the race was a very close one. The Picket was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad. He was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad. He was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad. He was the only horse in the race who was not beaten by Irish Lad.

The writer still believes that Irish Lad was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban. He was the best horse in the Suburban.

The Double Event is also a feature of the opening day at Sheepshead. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event. It is a double event, and it is a double event.
